Move on to Academic Affairs Report until Phil arrives.
Brief overview on written report submitted by Cheryl Medearis, VP/Academic Affairs. (Attachment B).

--Summer registration is scheduled for May 13-17, 2019. Enrollment for both June and July sessions will be completed at the same time.

- Adjusted the academic calendar due to snow days.
- Extended the spring semester due to snow days. Sent memo out to Department Chairs to work with instructors to provide additional assignments or meet with students for a longer period of time to ensure that academic rigor is there without going any longer.
- Extended the last day to withdraw from April 12th to Friday, April 19th.
- Summer session usually begins June 3rd possibly be extended to June 10th. Register and see when students/instructors are available. A lot of education faculty are working in schools so will not be ready until the 10th so, will start planning on a weekly basis.
- Hoped to register for summer and pre-register for the fall semester but this will not happen this year. Registration will be 13, 14, & 15th and have to be changed on the sheet you received. Really have to move to a year-long schedule so students have an idea to look at a full academic year in their degree program. Will work closely with department chairs and with support from the Provost will come up with a year’s schedule as best as can be done.
- Working on the on-line version of our catalogue. As things go through department chairs and faculty council changes are made on the online catalogue. However, our print catalogue is out-of-date and we have to decide how many we want to print. Most institutions moved to using totally and only on-line version of their catalogue.
- Course evaluations we have moved to using a survey monkey which is an online evaluation service that we have rather than handing out paper to students and instructors. They do them online and they go directly to Dan as the assessment coordinator. In your Board packets you see how he compiles and collates all of that information and goes back to the committee to make sure we are making the adjustments that our students are saying.
- Proposed a couple of Board meetings we need to update our organizational chart. It usually starts from within the Provost’s team. It is considerably harder for all of us to do our work when we are working off of an out-of-date organizational chart so that is something we need to move forward with very quickly.
- Prepared this before the last Board meeting when there was no quorum. There was five of us that went to the Higher Learning Commission. And, I am sure that the Provost will cover that in his report. Dan Seibel, Dr. Crawford, Dr. Green, Phil and myself attended. The conference there was around 4,000 plus at that conference. Over the years I attended that conference I am seeing tribal colleges and universities have more and more voice. There are whole sections now devoted to tribal colleges and university presentations and for all people who are interested.
So, that is a welcome change to watch evolve over the years. We do have a voice. Basically, it is the newer institutions like Sitting Bull College has a standing invitation always. They do a lot of presentations. It would behoove Sinte Gleska University to get our name on the slate and do some presentations.

- Cheryl: I am now entertaining any questions:
- Question by Elton Menard, Student Representative. The summer schedule came out and Lakota Studies is now called Institute of Teaching & Learning. Had students and staff ask about the status of the department.
- Yes, that is the title for it “Institute of Teaching & Learning”. We have an amended schedule coming out. Work with Dr. Green to see what offerings we have and difficulty during the summer to do some of those with the limited faculty that we have. So, we are looking for adjunct faculty to best meet the needs of our students. Two of our departments (Business and Human Services) require Lakota Language II and at some point we have to re-evaluate that and look at in light of the number of instructors we have and how can we really move it from what’s different and really make it more progressive. So, the amended schedule is out. Waiting on some faculty to get things out. We have to look at it as they didn’t learn or want to take the course, to make it more progressive.
- Elton: So, it won’t be Lakota Studies anymore? That’s what the students are concerned about.
- Cheryl: No, it hasn’t been for almost three (3) years. Maybe we just need to do more PR.
- Mike: Is that what the concern is – the title? It’s probably worth further discussion.
- Gabe: So, do they teach Lakota language, History & Culture, etc.?
- Cheryl: They do. Basically we are offering bare bones courses because of the health of Victor. He is doing the best he can. He teaches Lakota History & Culture, Tribal Laws, and Treaties & Government. Sandra Black Bear and Ben Black Bear are teaching Lakota Language I & II. Dr. Green is working with the State on the certification for instructors from college systems, high school systems, whatever to get a proficiency certificate from the State. That only allows you to teach the language in the school. He’s done a good job over the years. People can come in and if they can speak the language they get a certificate. That doesn’t mean they know how to do attendance and work certain standards and do all the things in a school. So, the methods class of teaching Lakota Language he has done more exactly what it is that needs to be done in the schools to improve that. So, basically that is where we are at with the classes to meet the needs of the students. We did finish up all people who started a degree. That is the legal aspect of it. So, if anybody is in the pipeline we have to be able to finish up their degree. Last year, we graduated the last of them and we were able to transfer credits with a degree in Lakota Studies over other programs so they lost the least of their credits. I took the lead over that as a certification officer.
- Lionel: The decision for the name change was made to satisfy HLC requirements and we should look into this further at a later time, like Mike suggested.
PROVOST REPORT – (Attachment C)

Provost Baird:

Talked about the faculty member teaching at Lower Brule Community College.

Related to accreditation:

- Look through federal statutes to come into compliance
- Must have evidence so we can take action
- SGU is being very diligent in this effort

Questions that the review team may ask is being prepared; we are working on many of these questions at varying department meetings

Data collection is an important piece of our work: collect data for IPEDS and AIMS/AKIS and for individual programs such as education and nursing; we do not have a solid information on data; Dr. Crawford and Dan Seibel are working on data collection; under-utilized in area of using the Jenzabar system

Attendance module must be activated – this data will drive recruitment and retention; we have to make some hard decisions with the limited resources that we have

Problems with National Clearinghouse, but these problems are being addressed; we must institutionalize and use data

Celebrating our 25th anniversary as a Land Grant institution; President on the advisory committee; meeting on April 29th.

Bison Field Station; endowed chair at SDSU for Bison Studies; work in progress for getting some $’s.

Grants – both grants will be discussed in Audit report:

- Tiwahe program (can be problematic)
- Title III – two areas – Part A and Part F
  - Building and technology
Key legal issue with the IRS is the name change on the document; letter from President Bordeaux has been sent.

Annual Report (in packet) – Attachment D

- Brief explanation of each of the sections;
- Put report in power point format;
- We will use the report for fundraising;
  - The “ask” from funders is key.

Motion #: 06:04:16:19

- Motion to accept the Annual Report
  - Motion by Tuffy Lunderman
  - Second by Gabriel Medicine Eagle
  - All in favor
    - Motion passed 4-0-1

- Next year’s annual report will reflect the 50th Anniversary to get earlier input from graduates, etc.
  - Out-reach from graduates was minimal, but we will use the information that we have;
  - Next November 2019 – report;
  - March 2020 is the visit.

Distance Education

- A grant brought in some teleconferencing equipment;
- We can pilot some community outreach;
- This will bring us up to a new level of communication.

  - We have a situation where we must renew a lease with Antelope Community; didn’t agree with the result.
  - Renegotiated a lease with Antelope Community for more money for another 4 years with option to renew.
  - Range management was an issue; Game, Fish and Parks will help do a more comprehensive assessment of prairie dog population.

- Plaque from prairie dogs is a key issue; there is ferret recovery program that will cost around $250,000
  - Question: What about the use of ferrets as the tribe has done?
    - State permits are now required.
    - Discussion on use of ferrets for the tribe; ferrets were neglected; prairie dog issue is a “big deal” with TLE.
    - With the north and south units we have 274 bison, 70 yearlings; 30 head of bison that are secured at Mustang Meadows that must be moved;
    - Going to court with TLE over the lease; evidence contradicts what is being said about SGU; have 30 days to respond to the court order; intent is that Mustang Meadows is a bigger priority than we can take on right now; need to find additional land for the bison
  - Question: With low student count, how will workforce development help the university? Could the expansion of IOT opportunities help out student count?
    - Answer is YES, per Provost Baird
    - Shannon DuBray has been hosting advisory meeting
    - Need to “retool” the building trades program using “sweat” equity
    - In terms of this area, he has met with the new superintendent of TCSD and with SFIS
    - Renew our MOU with MTI to improve this area of courses
    - Question regarding living quarters for students and faculty
